BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

During the past couple of years, self serve frozen yogurt shops have exploded in the marketplace - becoming one of the fastest growing business segments in the country. Tulsa has been no exception, with multiple locations and concepts opening throughout the City. This turn key operation is established in a prime marketing area with limited competition. This presents a unique opportunity for an entrepreneur who would like to take over an established location with proven profits that the whole family can work in. Advertising and marketing has been limited under current management. More aggressive direct mail marketing and coupons could attract new customers. Current owner is retirement age looking for less responsibility.
